PHOTO JOURNAL STYLE

during your personal consultation, we will discuss all your plans and create a photography schedule that compliments your ideas.

the following plan seems to work best for wildflower's candid style.

photographs usually begin one hour before your ceremony time. we will casually record candid moments as you prepare for the occasion. immediate family members including grandparents and attendants are incorporated into this presentation. we will select a location to meet where everyone can mingle.

after the ceremony, you will have the optional to organize portraits of the bride and groom with each of their immediate families.

special time and attention are given to the bride and groom at a select private location.

please do not bring other cameras to any of these organized times. it interferes with the photographer's flow of creativity and takes extra time away from your guests. to maintain wildflower photo's distinctively artful style, wedding photography services are limited to specific locations. please call to schedule your consultation appointment.
